

Round & About With Eria 897-2006

I urge you therefore, brethren by the merits of God, to present your bodies a living and holy sacrifice, acceptable to God, which is your spiritual service of worship.

And do not be conformed to this world but be transformed by the renewing of your mind that you may prove what the Will of God is, that which is good and acceptable and perfect for through the grace given to me I say to every man, among you not to think more highly of himself than he ought to think, but to think so as to have sound judgment, as God has allotted to each a measure of faith.

For just as we have many members in one body and all the members do not have the same function. So we, who are many, are one body by Christ, and individually members one of another.

Today's Poem

You cannot Pray the Lord's Prayer
In the first person, "I" -

You cannot say the Lord's Prayer and even once say "Me"

nor can you pray the Lord's Prayer and not pray for another, for as you ask for "daily bread," you must include your brother.

Yes, others are included;
in each and every plea;

From the beginning to the end fit,
It doesn't once say, "Me"

Elba City Council grants hearing to former police chief Hanchey

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

The Elba City Council meeting Monday night was a far cry from most meetings held by that group since October where disagreement is normal and often ugly.

This last meeting was mostly congenial and the only time council members went against the recommendation of the mayor was explained as prior commitments and not differing opinions on law, etc.

Mrs. Ellen Lowery was appointed to a vacancy on the Water & Electric Board created when the late Jack Prescott resigned. Mrs. Lowery will serve the remaining part of Prescott's term, which is about one year.

Bobby Lee was present and the council quickly approved a contract with his engineering firm to do a study on needed sewer upgrades.

The tentative study will cost the city $6,000 and take three months to complete. It will be used to identify needs in an application for federal funding on the sewer system improvements.

Lee reported the paving contractor had finally gotten one of the Jinright said, "I would not do anything to hurt Elba but I don't think you have permission to be heard. I want it noted that I will be heard on matters of importance in the future."

Mayor Ricky Haywood had recommended the appointment of Josh Tatum. However council member Galdys Yelverton wanted nominations taken, as there was an additional name she wanted considered.

The council and Haywood agreed and she nominated Lowery while Council member Earl McCollough entered Haywood's recommendation into the ring.

The vote was 4-2 in favor of Lowery with Yelverton, Sharpless, Jinright and Brunson supporting her selection. McCollough and Haywood voted against Lowery and for Tatum.

Brunson explained he had nothing against Tatum, but had promised Mrs. Yelverton several weeks ago he would support her suggestion. He added he was pleased to have two competent, qualified people willing to serve and was appreciative anyone would serve with the problems the utility has been experiencing lately.

Jinright said he thought both were qualified, but was concerned that Tatum's recent health problems would be aggravated under the stress of recent utility board meetings.

Former Police Chief Freddie Hanchey will get the hearing over his firing which he and his attorney Mike Jarred have repeatedly requested.

City Attorney Mark Vaughan was present and presented the mayor and council with a letter from the city's insurance company instructing them to grant the hearing.

Haywood was in the process of setting a time for the hearing when Jared requested time to check his appointment calendar and with Hanchey. The mayor agreed and suggested Jared and Vaughan work out a time with City Clerk Jeff Goodson.

Council member Ronnie Jinright discussed with Haywood events and letters written since last week.

Jinright had asked the Hanchey matter be on the agenda for the Monday night meeting. Haywood wrote the item on the agenda, citing pending legal action.

Jinright then put his request in writing and it was signed by two other council members - Bill Brunson and John W. Sharpless. Jinright said he would have gotten the other two council members to sign but they were out of town at the time.

Jinright held up another letter from Haywood, again declining to place the matter on the agenda. Jinright said, "I would not do anything to hurt Elba but I don't think you have any right to refuse anyone permission to be heard. I want it noted that I will be heard on matters of importance in the future."

Streets paved in the Mulberry project. He explained again that rain had put a damper on the project but it was progressing as well as possible.

Council member Gladys Yelverton said, "I am glad to see that one is finally paved, in fact I rode up and down it several times."

Haywood presented the council with copies of legal fees charged by City Attorney Mark Vaughan, largely for defending the redistricting suit

He further expressed that there could be even further savings as

The itemized bill covered several pages of work and totaled $7500, which Vaughan had discounted from $9715.86.

Council member John Sharpless said, "We got a bargain at $70 per hour, usually attorney charges are higher."

Haywood explained he wasn't complaining about Vaughan's charges, but about the wisdom of spending money defending a case everyone knew they were going to lose. He added that a special election would cost between $5,000 and $6,000 in addition to the legal fees already spent.

Vaughan explained the work was completed now and this was a final bill on the federal case.

Police Chief Jack Parker reported receipt of 28 complaints in the past week, resulting in 5 criminal arrests. There were six traffic citations issued during this period.

The Animal Control Officer picked up four dogs. Three were returned to their owner and one was sold.

Parker told the council his department needed to replace three patrol units.

Haywood explained there was $14,000 in the budget for police cars and that wasn't quite enough for one fully equipped vehicle. He suggested the council consider leasing two cars and paying for them in three years. The lease Haywood was recommending would allow the city to purchase the cars for $1 each after three years.

Sharpless asked how much the lease would increase the cost over outright purchasing the cars. Parker said he would have that information by the next meeting and the matter was tabled until that time.

Council members were given copies of a sample hunting ordinance for review. The mayor asked them to read the ordinance, discuss it with their supporters and be ready to recommend changes at the next meeting.

This ordinance is in response to earlier complaints from residents of deer hunters shooting close to houses and to golfers on the golf course. Jinright passed out copies of his estimates of the cost of Elba picking up garbage, rather than contracting out the work. He repeated his opinion that the city could save at least $50,000 a year by eliminating the council and doing the work with city employees.

He further expressed that there could be even further savings as

The Coffee County Commission listened in Monday's meeting as Mark Pugh presented 15 options on handling the disposal of county's solid waste.

Pugh is the project engineer with the firm of Carter, Darnell, and Grubbs Engineering Inc. of Andalusia, AL. The firm was contracted by the county to assist them in obtaining a permit to construct a Subtitle D regional landfill.

On Tuesday, February 9, Coffee County was successful in obtaining the state's first permit to construct a Subtitle D landfill.

Pugh presented the commissioners with a 47-page report which outlined, in detail, each of their options.

The following is a brief description of those options:

#1 - Construct a Coffee County Sanitary Landfill for Coffee County only-owned and operated by the county.

#2 - Construct a Coffee County Sanitary Landfill for Coffee County only-owned by the county and operated by a private firm.

#3 - Construct a Coffee County Sanitary Landfill for Coffee County and one other county-owned and operated by a private firm.

#4 - Construct a Coffee County Sanitary Landfill for Coffee County and one other county-owned and operated by a private firm.

#5 - Construct a Coffee County Sanitary Landfill for multiple counties-owned and operated by the county.

#6 - Construct a Coffee County Sanitary Landfill for multiple counties-owned and operated by a private firm.

#7 - Construct a Coffee County Sanitary Landfill for multiple counties-owned and operated by a private firm.

#8 - Sell the Coffee County Sanitary Landfill to a Coffee County Authority.

#9 - Sell the Coffee County Sanitary Landfill to a Regional Authority.

Commissioner Brooks made a motion to approve Bryant's request with Commissioner Sid Averett seconding the motion.

During the discussion of the motion, Averett asked that the school board allow the commission to set the election date.

Averett's reason for his request was that it is hoped a special referendum concerning the increasing of property taxes, for the purpose of constructing a new Enterprise Courthouse and an annex for the Elba Courthouse, could be voted on at the same time.

In order for the referendum concerning the courthouses to be held, the State Legislature has to take action allowing it to be done. Currently, the commission is seeking Representative Jimmy Holley's help in getting this done, but no commitments have been made at this time.

Bryant stated to the commission that it was the school board's desire to go ahead with the April 13 election. It was their reasoning that if the measure failed, the board would still have time to make another attempt at getting the measure passed or reverting to other means of raising the funds for the school system.

Averett withdrew his second to the motion after Bryant's statement.

Commissioner Lawrence Creek immediately seconded the motion.

The request from the county school board was that a special re-

Elba gets more and more into recycling.

Haywood explained there was more to making that decision than setting down with a set of numbers. Jinright reminded Haywood that he had repeatedly said, "If you can show me it is cheaper with ISS, I will support you."

July 31st is the contract termination date. Haywood wants something done before that date. He recommends renewing the contract with ISS for an additional three years at no increase in charges. ISS currently charges the city $9.68 a month for residential pick-up.

The mayor told council members a ruling from the attorney general's office indicated they could legally extend this contract if there was no increase in charges. ISS currently charges the city $9.68 a month for residential pick-up.

Haywood explained he wasn't complaining about Vaughan's charges, but about the wisdom of spending money defending a case everyone knew they were going to lose. He added that a special election would cost between $5,000 and $6,000 in addition to the legal fees already spent.

Round and About With ERIA

Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ. For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. For every man shall bear his own burden. Galatians 6:1-5

Thinking of you, praying for you. The Horstead family, the Burney family, the Phillips family, and Sharon and Jeffrey Lewis, Jr.

As we pay tribute to great African-American leaders of the past we are proud to celebrate the 1993 Black History Season with a program highlighting the past and present dreams of our African-American heritage. There's been a tremendous outpouring of praise and affection for African-American brothers and sisters in many places.

Nevertheless, I am naming Black families that were pioneers in my hometown, Elba.

When we look back on the past, we are proud of the nonstop efforts and tireless drive of our people in their struggles, trials, through tears in trying to make life better for themselves and their descendants in every way. They were a proud people, they had dignity, a togetherness of Samson.

Annual Choir Day of the Church of the Living God CWF Temple, Andalusia, Alabama, Rev. Thurmon Brazzell, pastor, will be held Saturday, February 27, 1993 at 7:00 p.m. and Sunday, February 28, 1993 at 2:00 p.m.

Look To Jesus

In his autobiography, Charles Spurgeon writes of the events leading up to his conversion. For some time his heart and conscience had been burdened by a sense of sin he could not get rid of. For several consecutive Sundays he had been attending different churches in an attempt to find salvation. One Sunday, a snow storm caused him to visit a church other than the one he intended because it was closer. The pastor had failed to show up because of the storm, so a member of the congregation was going to deliver the morning sermon. His text was, "Look to me and be saved" taken from Isaiah 45:22.

Spurgeon described how in the middle of the sermon the man stopped, looked at him and said, "Young man, you look miserable, and you will always be miserable-miserable in life, and miserable in death-if you don't obey my text; but if you obey now, this moment you will be saved. Young man, look to Jesus and live."

It's the same for us. We have only to look to Jesus as He dies on a cross for us. In that moment, as we believe and confess our sins, we, too, will be saved.

FBLA Members Join WAR

by Tracie Tidwell

A baby dies every 15 seconds in the United States totaling more than 60,000 per year. Americans throw away more than 250 million tires every year. Americans use 5 billion pens a year and throw away 1.6 of those they use. Because of these amazing facts the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) and the March of Dimes have united to write a healthier future for America's babies and to fight the war on waste by selling ball point pens called Wheely's. Wheely's are made from recycled rubber tires.

Wheely's are made by PIMBYCO, a company that is very conscious of protecting the environment. It's a business that plans to make products from recycled materials and its first product is the Wheely's.

For every Wheely's pen sold by a chapter of FBLA, PIMBYCO gives 10¢ to the local March of Dimes. Zion Chapel's FBLA is selling the pens for $1 each and plans to send all the money raised from the sale of Wheely's to the March of Dimes. Mrs. Rachel Bryan, FBLA sponsor, says that she has some of the pens left and she would be glad to sell them to anyone who is interested.

In addition to the sale of Wheely's the FBLA has another on going project to raise money for the March of Dimes. A "Cutest Baby Contest" is in progress. Students can pay 50¢ and vote for the baby they think is the cutest. Of course the babies are actually baby pictures and they are baby pictures of some of the high school staff and faculty. For another 50¢ a person can try to identify each of the pictures that are mounted on a card-board backdrop. The person whose baby picture is voted the cutest will win a prize and the students who guess the identity of most of the pictures will win a prize.

FIGHT WASTE & BIRTH DEFECTS

The February meeting of the Zion Chapel Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) was a special meeting to celebrate National Vocational Education and FBLA Week and to celebrate the Fifteenth Anniversary of FBLA.

The meeting was called to order by President Sandy Jacobs. Arleen Prigden passed out yellow and blue FBLA badges to members to wear in honor of Future Business Leaders of America Week.

Following was the Emblem Ceremony which was performed by some of the ninth grade members of FBLA. They were Amy Jackson, Ben Maddox, Susan Bryan, Pam Johnson, Steve Hodge and Steve Hodge. Sandy Jacobs also participated in the ceremony.

The secretary, Laura Brown, then called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. When asked if the minutes were approved, Chris Hodge made the motion and Chris Ginnell seconded.

Following Laura was Susan Bryan who gave a report about the student who made a radio recording about FBLA. The student talked about FBLA's history, requirements, the goals, national winners, competitions, and other different things involved in FBLA. The students who participated in this were President Sandy Jacobs, Secretary Laura Brown, and members Chris Green and Susan Bryan. Mrs. Bryan also attended.

Following Susan was Tracey Jernigan who gave a report about the business tournament at Enterprise State Junior College that several business students attended. Zion Chapel competed in Keyboard Applications I, Economics, Business Calculations, and Business English. The students competing were Susan Bryan, Tracey Jernigan, Dawn Nelson, Samella Green, and Sandy Jacobs.

Then Mrs. Bryan brought up the topic of new business. She discussed the Dixie City District trip and introduced Mrs. Golda Donaldson as a guest at the meeting. Mrs. Donaldson is the College County Technology Coordinator and a member of the Coffee County Business Education Advisory Council.

The FBLA talent trio Arleen Prigden, Kim Jennings, and Katie Maddox entertained the members with two songs, "The Rose" and "Wind Beneath My Wings."

Vice President Chris Hodge introduced the guest speakers for the meeting, Mrs. Henrietta Grimes and Mrs. Paula Black gave a presentation on "Dressing Professionally." Mrs. Grimes and Mrs. Black are members of the Coffee County Business Education Advisory Council. They are both employed by the Peoples Bank in Elba. They brought with them several of the "uniforms" that they wear to work. They explained how they choose the uniforms that they wear and how they know what to wear each day. They explained how looking professional contributes to their job performance. Even though they spoke mostly about the women who work at the bank, they also explained how the men dress. Mrs. Grimes brought with her a sports coat and a shirt that is an example of how the men dress. She explained that the bank provides dress shirts in white and blue for the male employees. The shirts have "Peoples Bank" embroidered above the pocket.

The FBLA trio ended the meeting by singing "Love Can Build A Bridge."

The Peoples Bank Promote Vocational Education and FBLA

National Vocational Education and FBLA Week were celebrated in a variety of ways by the Zion Chapel Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA).

Mrs. Henrietta Grimes, Mrs. Paula Black, and Mrs. Doris Matthews were a big help with the celebration. They are employed by The Peoples Bank of Elba which proclaimed the week on the bank's sign and check in front of the bank. They were responsible for having the message on the sign.

Other activities included a trip to Commission Court, a radio program on WELH and WZTJ with Art Williams, and public service announcements on WSFA-TV and WTVY-TV.

The public service announcements on WSFA-TV and WTVY-TV announced a special FBLA meeting and invited parents and former FBLA members to attend that meeting.

President Sandy Jacobs and Treasurer Tracey Jernigan ordered a cake specially for the meeting. The cake was decorated in blue and yellow, FBLA colors. It was a birthday cake for 50 years of FBLA.

As part of National FBLA Week, 2C members have been recruiting professional members and for anyone who is interested it is not too late. Anyone who is interested in becoming a professional member can contact any FBLA member or Mrs. Rachel Bryan, club sponsor, at Zion Chapel High School (897-6275).

A banner that read "FBLA Supports Zion Chapel Basketball" was prepared by FBLA members and hung in the Zion Chapel gym and a banner that read "Vocational Education & FBLA Week" was placed in the school hall. Faculty Littlefield, Sonya Simmons, and Mrs. Bryan prepared a bulletin board for the hall. The bulletin board spotlighted the three vocational clubs at Zion Chapel - Future Business Leaders of America, Future Homemakers of America, and Future Farmers of America.

Seniors Choose Motto, Song, Colors & Flowers

"Life is full of laughter, but laughter too shall end. Give me instead forever the friendship of a friend" is the motto chosen by the seniors. At Baccalaureate and at Graduation the girls will carry a rose. At Baccalaureate the boys will wear a red rose boutonniere. An arrangement made of roses will decorate the stage at both Baccalaureate and Graduation.

The song chosen by the Class of 1993 is "A Whole New World." "A Whole New World" is the theme song from Walt Disney's feature-length cartoon, ALADDIN.

The Beginning Of Black History Month

by Annette Brooks

The thought of an observance honoring the achievement of black Americans led to the establishment of Negro History Week in 1926. It was proposed by Carter G. Woodson. In the early 1970's the observance became known as Black History Month and was later established as Black History Month in 1976. The month of celebration is sponsored by the Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History (ASALH) which was founded by Woodson in 1915.

FCA Holds Meeting

For the past three Fridays the Fellowship of Christian Athletes have met. Merrill Shirley was the guest speaker for the January 29th meeting and the February 5th meeting. He spoke about the importance of Christianity incorporated with athletics. Tony Dye led the approximately 50 students who attended the first two meetings in prayer. February 12th, Dr. Tim Tucker, a veterinarian from Enterprise, led the meeting. He gave his personal testimony to the 65 members who attended. The future programs will include other guest speakers, election of officers, and outdoor functions. Mike Harrison, the FCA sponsor, is inviting every student to join FCA and attend the meetings every Friday morning at 7:15.

Views From The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

The 1990 flood will be three years old in a couple of weeks, but for Melissa, the bad memories came back last week and the hurt was still there! Melissa's playhouse floated away in the flood and ended up several hundred yards away at the bottom of the big washout located behind the old Some Drive-In. Efforts to get the playhouse out of the soggy bottom failed, and the playhouse was forgotten until recently when the state began clearing the land for a new road. State workers agreed to let me make one more try at moving the playhouse; however, when the land was cleared, the playhouse was found to be in worse shape than thought, and fell apart when moved. Melissa only got to play in the playhouse a couple of years, but it was hers, and she cried last week when the house was piled up along with trees and rubbish.

I know that I'll never completely recover from the flood, but I hope that for Melissa and the other children, one day the flood will only be something they can sit and tell their children about, without rekindling the pain.

Elba wins 3A, Area 4 tourney title

A New Brockton Gamecock drives for the goal. The Gamecocks will be at home tonight (Thursday) in the opening round of sub-state when they battle 3rd ranked Samson.

Elba to host Slocumb tonight in opening round of Sub-State

The Elba Tigers will make their opening round appearance in the Class 3A, Sub-State competition tonight (Thursday) when they host the Slocumb Red Tops.

The Tigers improved their record to 16-6 Saturday night by winning the Area 4 tournament, while Slocumb placed second in the Area 3 tourney and will bring a 13-10 record into the clash.

"We defeated Slocumb earlier in the year at Slocumb," stated Elba's Coach Curtis Lane, "but Slocumb has some outstanding basketball players and the skills to whip anybody on any given night. They get solid inside play from 6-5 Tommy Apin and love to shoot the three-pointers. They also like to run the ball up and down the court and will throw the ball down the court every time they can, if you don't get back on defense."

"Slocumb is very capable of coming in here and beating us," said Lane, "so, we'll have to be ready to play our best game and then go out and do it."

"We had a very good week of practice prior to the area tournament and it showed in the win against Luverne," added Lane. "We played real well on defense, went to the boards well and shot the ball better than we have in many weeks. Luverne was a good team, and to beat them should show our players that we can be good, too, when we practice hard and then go out and play the way we can."

"We are only two wins away from going to the state tournament," said Coach Lane, who last season led Samson to the state tournament, "but at the same time we are only one loss away from the season being over. This is the time of the year when there is truly no tomorrow and the players will have to work harder than ever and play every second of every minute, and every minute of every quarter. We have a shot, but it will take maximum effort from every player."

The Elba defense picked up the pace in the second quarter and slowed down the Luverne offensive attack, while the Elba shooting never slowed down and by the end of the half the Tigers were on top 39-28.

The Elba defense picked up the pace in the second quarter and slowed down the Luverne offensive attack, while the Elba shooting never slowed down and by the end of the half the Tigers were on top 39-28.

Elba continued to extend its lead in the third quarter and pulled out to a big 45-28 lead, then let the reserves mop up the win in the final stanza and put the 75-57 win on the books!

David Yelverton scored 24 points to lead Elba, while Alex Magwood added 16 and Dion Belcher scored 15. Morris May led

Elba 10 & Under All-Stars to compete at District 8 tournament in Eufaula

The Elba All-Stars will begin play in the 1993 ARPA District 8 10 and Under Basketball Tournament on Saturday, Feb. 27, in Eufaula.

The All-Stars received a first round bye in the 12-team event, and will play on Saturday morning, at 10:15, against the winner of the Geneva-Ft. Rucker game.

The tournament will begin on Friday night, with four games on up. The opening round games will find Troy against Andalusia, Geneva against Ft. Rucker, Opp against Greenville and Abbeville against Daleville.

Eufaula, Elba, Enterprise and Ozark all received byes and will swing into action on Saturday morning.

All games will be played at the Admiral Moorer Middle School gym, which is located on Lake Drive on the road leading to the Old Creek Recreation Complex.

The Elba All-Stars appear to have their best team in many years and are hoping to bring the district title back to Elba.

The All-Stars will be led by Lusher Lane, the all-time scoring leader in league history, with an average of 29.2 points per game, and Jap Dubose, who averaged 16.7 points per game during the season.

Other leading scorers include Brandon Salter (7.0), Aaron Coleman (6.7), Jerry Dubois (6.0), Derrick Duncan (5.5) and Josh Lawford (4.5).

Other members of the team include Jimbo Cook, John Waters and Terrence Burks.

Coaches for the All-Stars are Terry Burks and Lamont Head.

12 teams to compete on Saturday Elba to host A.R.P.A. District 8 12 & Under basketball tourney

The Elba Department of Parks and Recreation will host twelve of the finest youth basketball teams in Southeast Alabama on Saturday, Feb. 27, when the Alabama Recreation and Parks Association District 8 Youth Basketball Tournament is held at Elba High School.

The tournament will be for All-Star teams from across the area, with games to be played at both the Elba High School varsity gym and the Elba High physical education gym.

The tournament will be for teams with players ages 12 and under," stated Elba Recreation Director Ricky Mularz, "and the youngsters play basketball right by the book. The only rule change is that the quarters last six minutes, besides that, it's pure basketball on a regulation court played by youngsters."

"We hosted the 10 and under tournament last year and it was a tremendous success," added Mularz, "and when we got the chance to host the 12 and under tournament this year we jumped at it. The tournament will bring eleven other all-star teams to Elba, and will spotlight the community and the new school facilities. The teams, and their fans, will come to town, eat in our restaurants and maybe even do some shopping. The tournament will be a big boost for our league and our department; however, it will also be an event that should benefit the entire community."

The tournament will begin on Saturday morning at 9:00, with games set for both the high school physical education gym and the varsity gym. Andalusia will battle Opp at 9:00 in the varsity gym, while Enterprise and Ft. Rucker will also play at 9:00, in the PE gym.

The two 11:30 games will pit Dothan against the winner of the Andalusia-Opp game in the PE gym, and Greenville against the winner of the Enterprise-Ft. Rucker contest, in the varsity gym.

At 12:45, Abbeville will battle the Elba-Ozark winner in the PE gym, while at the varsity gym it will be Eufaula against the Geneva-Troy winner.

Semifinals will be held in the varsity gym at 2:00 and 3:15, with the finals set for 5:00.

Admission to the day long tournament will be $2 adults and $1 students.

"We had a real big crowd last year for the 10 and under tournament," said Mularz, "and I urge everyone to come out Saturday and watch at least a couple of games. The skills of these players will surprise you and I think that everyone who comes will enjoy it."

The Elba All-Stars will be coached by Peety Belcher and Dion Belcher, the coaches of the league champion Lakers, and appear to have a solid team with which to compete for the district title.

Derek Marler will lead the All-Stars with a 15.8 points per game average, while Anthony Stoudemire scored during the regular season at a 10.3 points per game clip.

Other top scorers include Tim Ware (9.6), Eric Jordan (8.0), Derrick Thigpen (7.0) and Rene Boswell (5.2). Andy Daugherty (4.8) and Andrea Allen (4.6).

Other All-Stars include Jake Cowen and Ladon Daniels.

Dishwasher Trends

Because dishwashers are already installed in most of today's homes, new sales are usually replacement sales.

Popular new features of dishwashers include nylon racks, delay-start, clips to hold down lightweight items and touch controls with cycle sequence sensors. As the kitchen evolves into a large family entertainment center, the noise reduction option is a feature that consumers are willing to pay a premium for.

Hot-water boosters which ensure that the water temperature reaches 140°F, the ideal temperature for the best cleaning and drying results, is another feature in high demand. Other popular performance features include improved washing action, often via jets that emit water from the bottom, middle and top of the dishwasher to make sure that even items in the corners get clean. Improved filters and food disposers eliminate the need to pre-rinse dishes. Even the tiniest food particles are trapped so that they aren't redeposited on the dishes.

Although high fashion colors are now available, the most popular choices continue to be black, white, and almond. These are the old stand-bys that won't soon look dated. However, while the color of the dishwasher remains the same, the inner surface is undergoing some changes. Because it is cheaper to produce and lasts longer, the plastic tub is currently supplanting the porcelain unit.

However, several manufacturers predict that the stainless-steel interior or now used in hospitals and restaurants, will be the choice of the future. Stainless steel provides less opportunity for germ build-up and the color won't fade.

Other future developments include a compact, tabletop dishwasher, such as the one currently available in Europe. New technology will increase both its cleaning and drying power. In addition, the Department of Energy has issued more stringent energy efficient standards, new dishwasher models will probably use less water and have fewer cycles.

Fast-Food Run

You're at your favorite burger joint, but you're trying to watch the fat content of the meal. Here are some tips for keeping the fat content of your meal to a minimum.

Have a salad with low-fat dressing instead of french fries. Instead of french fries, choose low-fat or nonfat frozen yogurt for dessert. Substitute fruit juices or low-fat milk for a soft drink. A burger with the works looks good, but grilled chicken without special sauce will lighten up your day's fat load.

Farm Program Sign-up Begins March 1st

"We will begin accepting applications for the 1993 farm programs on March 1, David W. Eaddy, CEO of the Coffee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said. The U.S. Department of Agriculture is requiring acreage reductions of 10% for corn, 5% for grain sorghum and rice, 7.5% for upland cotton, 20% for extra-long staple cotton, and 0% for wheat, oats and barley.

Farmers who meet acreage reduction for price support loans and other program requirements will be eligible for price support loans and deficiency payments. Producers may request 50% of the estimated total deficiency payments in program crops when they sign up for the 1993 programs," Eaddy said. They payments will be issued in cash, and will be limited to the farmer's intended program acreage. He said the 1993 programs have flexible plant features, the same as in 1992. Up to 25% of the crop acreage base or flex acres, may be planted to any program crop, any assistance is desired, or experimental crop designated by USDA, or any other crop except fruits and vegetables.

"A full list of crops which may be planted on flex acreage will be available in our office," ASCS official Eaddy said.

For additional details on these and other 1993 farm program provisions, farmers may contact the Coffee County ASCS Office. The 1993 farm program sign-up ends April 30, 1993.

Coffee County Youth Awarded For Winning Essay

Local 4-H student Cammie Kelley was among six youth who were recently honored for their outstanding writing talent which won them positions in the area 1992 4-H Peanut Essay Contest. Cammie, a 14-year-old student at Coffee County High School, defeated against more than 200 other 4-H members who also entered the contest.

The competition was sponsored locally by the Alabama Peanut Producers Association and the Alabama Cooperative Extension Service. Winners were recognized during the ALPPA annual meeting held on February 12 in New Brockton. Each winner received a plaque and a monetary prize for their exceptional work.

Winners in the junior division included Michael Reynolds, Geneva County - first place; Victoria Lynn Easley, Covington County - second place; Cammie Kelley, Coffee County - third place. Senior division winners were Miranda Robinson, Dale County - first place; Cory Trawick, Henry County - second place; Laura Oliver, Covington County - third place.

Each winner's county extension agent received a Coach's Award for their leadership and assistance with the students. Agents receiving this award include Donald Nelson, Geneva County; Willie Durr, Covington County; Richard Petcher, Coffee County; Thomas Agee, Dale County; and Jimmy Jones, Henry County.

Sandra Coffey - County Agent Dieting Plans Should Require Physical Exam

Dieting Diet plans should require a physical exam by a doctor, preferably one who knows your medical history. High blood pressure, diabetes and other problems that often accompany obesity can be life-threatening complications. It's also good to have a doctor review a diet's nutrient and mineral content.

People who are extreme compulsive overeaters, anorexics and bulimics need to be in the care of a psychotherapist and a registered dietitian with experience in treating these disorders. If you are planning to go on a diet, don't expect miracles. People often believe that if they lose weight, their lives will magically change. Their marriage will be better. They'll get a job promotion and have a better social life. This is unrealistic thinking. Weight loss may solve some problems; however, disappointments can trigger renewed overeating.

Start new "thin" activities BEFORE you have lost all the weight you want to lose. Plan tennis, wear shorts or go out dancing. Set small goals for yourself, then larger ones as you build your confidence.

If fat has been a defense against getting close to other people, against feeling good about yourself or against competing with others, it's very easy for you to sabotage the progress you've made. Understand your fear, and be kind to yourself. You can handle the changes without overeating.

March Is A Good Time For Pruning Fruit & Nut Trees

Pruning Fruit & Nut Trees

Fruit and Nut Trees: Pruning

Complete the pruning of all of your fruit plants no later than during the flowering period. That period is usually some time in March. It's all right to do a little summer pruning, but don't prune fruit trees during the major leafing period of late March, April, and May.

It is generally best to finish pruning by the time the buds swell, but as mentioned before, it can be done as late as the blooming period.

When pruning small fruits such as blackberries and raspberries, be sure to remove old fruiting canes. Leaving old canes can cause troublesome insect and disease problems. Fruit trees can be successfully pruned in March as long as the plants have been properly stored and are in good shape.

A common mistake is lack of pruning and planning time. Apples and pears should be cut back to 29-30 inches high, while peaches and plums should be cut back to 26-28 inches.

All side branches should be removed, but if large side branches are present, leave one inch stubs on the trunk beginning at 20 inches above the ground up to where the tree was cut back. This is very important on large trees commonly planted by home gardeners. These stubs will help insure having adequate buds and down the trunk for development of new shoots.

Each winner's county extension agent received a Coach's Award for their leadership and assistance with the students. Agents receiving this award include Donald Nelson, Geneva County; Willie Durr, Covington County; Richard Petcher, Coffee County; Thomas Agee, Dale County; and Jimmy Jones, Henry County.

Scale insects are among the more serious pests attacking ornamentals in Coffee County. They make a hole in plant tissue, such as plant juices, and lowering the health of plants. Heavy attacks can cause bud-dropping, twig die-back and plant death.

There are many kinds of scale insects. Most scales do not look like "typical" insects so attack may not be noticed until serious plant damage happens. Scales show up as bumps or cottony lumps on leaves or bark. Some make honeydew, a sticky material in which black mold grows. Twigs and foliage coated with this mold show the presence of scales or other honeydew-making insects.

Newly-hatched scales are often "cigar-size" and are found on new growth. Newly-hatched scales are called "crawlers" because they move around. Crawlers are easy to control with insecticides. As the scale insects grow they form a thicker waxy body coating and are still. It is important to properly identify scales in order to know when crawler stages are present.

Cut back dying twigs covered with scales before using an insecticide. Enemies such as small wasps, ladybird beetles, other insects and some fungi can attack and get rid of scale insects. When few scales and many ladybird beetles are seen, or when many dead scales with tiny holes are seen, delay treatment. You should watch closely the progress of scales and, if scale numbers decrease or stay at a low level, don't use insecticides.

If scales increase and damage out of control, use insecticides. Treat with pest-killing oils during the inactive season, or with regular sprays during the time crawlers emerge.

Coffee County poultry farmers are sharing ideas with Georgia farmers. Billy Jacobs, William Bodney, and Jack Wall visited four Coffee County poultry farms to look at their composters for dead birds. The four Coffee County farmers are James Smith, Charles Lott, Sam Farris, and Billy Wyrosdick. Composting dead birds is a fairly new way of disposing of the mortality from the poultry houses. This is a very environmentally safe operation. Farmers are very conscious of protecting the environment and going to the compost is just another way that they are doing all they can to keep our environment safe.
